KARNATAKA ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS 2018

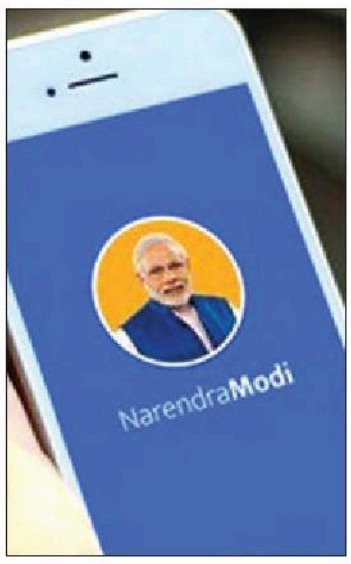
Modi reaches out to BJP candidates through NAMO APP

'Development should be the election mantra'

New Delhi, Apr.26- With 16 days to go for the May 12 voting day, campaign for the Assembly election has picked up pace. Prime Minister Narendra Modi this morning interacted with all the BJP candidates who have filed nominations, MPs, party office-bearers and party workers through NAMO APP (Narendra Modi App).

Viewers had to download the App through their smartphones and listen to the PM who spoke for over 30 minutes. The interaction began at 9 am and the party Social Media Cell had kept its technology backend ready to facilitate the mega interaction. It was a two-way interaction where the PM could hear views from candidates and party workers. Participants could even ask questions to the PM during the video interaction.

Prior to the interaction, participants were assisted in installing the app on smartphones. Party sources said that the Prime Minister has interacted with party MPs in this manner before. However, this was the first time he interacted on such a large scale to boost the confidence of the candidates and party workers.



In his App address, Modi said that development, fast paced development and all-round development, should be the election mantra. In a scathing attack on Congress, he said that previous rulers of the country have been cheating the people through false assurances and continued to patronise specific communities or castes. They have been indulging in divisive politics. He said, the BJP should approach the electorate through politics of development.

Replying to a question from MLA and former Minister, Suresh Kumar, Modi said that Bengaluru is not restricted to either the city or to Karnataka alone, the entire world is looking to it and it has to emerge a model city for the country.

Speaking on the continuing migration of people from rural areas to the city, he said that the development strategy for urban areas should have a radical change and things and infrastructure requirements should be planned on a long term perspective of 25 to 30 years.

Rundown Republic

The few nonagenarians and centenarians, who had jumped into the action famously called India's freedom struggle, surviving to this day with memories of the trials and tribulations that they had to face, often at gunpoint of the land's Police force taking orders from the white bosses to show no mercy for the agitating unarmed patriots of the day while resorting to cane charge and also pulling the gun trigger in terror, can be heard on some occasions expressing their disenchantment at the goings on in the nation as faithfully reported by the media. They had dreams of spending the remaining years of their life without fear of suppression at the hands of the ruling class of the colonialists. Unarguably, most of the activists, if not all of them, are known to have never entertained any desire for power and pelf once the land came under self-rule. Their only wish was for good Samaritans at the helm to take the nation on a path of progress and glory.

The daily prayers of our ancestors, expressed in a Shanti Mantra Kaale varshathu parjanyaha... only sought timely rains, earth to have lush green cover, freedom from disturbances in the land and law-abiding citizens to live without fear. They were never worse off for their prayers in all humility except on occasions of wars and pestilence, thanks to the misdemeanour of human beings as recorded in the land's long history.

Keeping aside the prayers for plentiful rains in a time-honoured seasonal recurrence year on year, the other points in the prayers compel some introspection by the citizens at large and the land's administration in particular. There is some substance in the belief that if the elements of nature are not bestowed respect and gratitude, the land's people are bound to be taught bitter lessons amounting to not responding positively to the aforementioned prayer of the earthlings. Frankly, the currently emerging mass of influential members of the nation's population represent anything other than sajjans (good Samaritans).

Flipping through the front as well as the inside pages of dailies of all hues and even cursorily reading the reports therein 365 days of the year (barring holidays), one cannot but infer that the nation has slipped into the hands of rowdies and rapists, overwhelming the administration. A new prayer to save the rundown republic from their clutches is to be chanted by the citizenry.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

For some of us, starting the day without reading a newspaper is like drinking a cup of tea that has turned cold or eating food without salt. It has become so much part of our system that its absence, even for a day, makes us feel disoriented, disconnected and disappointed, to say the least. Without a morning scan of the newspaper is like being in a room with no doors and not knowing what's happening outside. When we have an uninterrupted supply of something day in and day out, we tend to take it for granted and seem to miss it only when it is not there. The absence of the newspaper is one such thing. A newspaper is something alive, it is current and happening. Like the one-time passwords, it has a short lifespan of only one day. The previous day's paper would have already become 'old hat' by the next day. To create this 'one day' miracle, a bunch of committed people have to work till unearthly hours, sometimes for several days, to finish their work before the deadline so it can come out in print and be delivered at our doorstep even before we wake up. Since we see only the finished product little do we realise the hair-splitting effort behind it. — Elizabeth Koshy in The New Indian Express.

Oh My God! L'tl Bruce Lee

Nara: Ryusei "Ryuji" Imai, an 8-year-old boy from Nara, Japan, has dedicated his life to imitating martial arts legend Bruce Lee. The world was first introduced to Ryuji three years ago, when a video showing him perfectly imitating Bruce Lee's nunchaku routine from the 1972 movie 'Game of Death,' went viral on social media. Today, Ryusei Imai, or "Little Bruce Lee", as he's come to be known. Ryusei's father says that he get up at 6 am and trains for an hour and half every morning, before going to school. When he returns, he runs for another hour, and then spends 2 hours working on his kicks and nunchaku routines total 4.5 hours of training every day.

According to Ryuji's dad, he has been watching Bruce Lee movie since he was one, and started imitating scened from his movies at age four. In one year's time he had already mastered the nunchaku scene from Game of Death, and was appearing on international TV shows.

Not matching!

Taipei: A female candidate for a local position in Taipei, Taiwan, recently became the butt of social media jokes, after people noticed that she looked nothing like the woman on her campaign posters.

The world of politics is no stranger to image editing software, to make themselves look better in campaign posters. However, PR people sometimes overdo it to the point where the editing is obvious even to the untrained eye. And then there are cases like that of Wang Zhiya, a politician running for a position on Taipei's City Council, whose campaign posters look absolutely nothing like her.

The difference between real-life Wang and her depiction on campaign posters first drew people's attention when the candidate uploaded some photos of herself posing next to her posters, on her Facebook profile. Anyone could see that the woman pictured on them looked nothing like Wang, so they started joking about it.

Researchers have speculated that we each have a unique smell, the result of a collection of proteins called the Major Histocompatability Complex (MHC). There is mounting evidence that MHCs play a role in human mate selection.

CM faces friend's rebuff at Chamundeshwari

Friend of 15 years tells Siddharamaiah that he would vote for G.T. Devegowda

GP Member Mariswamy

Mysuru, Apr. 26- On his campaign trail in Chamundeshwari Constituency where Chief Minister Siddharamaiah is fighting a high-profile electoral battle with incumbent MLA G.T. Devegowda, the CM yesterday had to face some embarrassing moments.

During a road show in Chamundeshwari, Gram Panchayat (GP) Member Mariswamy, the CM's friend of 15 years, openly turned down an invite to join him (CM). Mariswamy said he would support the JD(S) that has promised the Deputy Chief Minister's post to a Dalit if it came to power.

The incident occurred at Hale Kesare coming under Chamundeshwari Assembly segment where the CM recognised some of his old friends Veerabhadra and GP Member Rajanna and spoke to them.

Standing on an open jeep, Siddharamaiah identified Dalit leader Mariswamy, who is a Member of Siddalingapura GP.

The CM called out Mariswamy, who was standing with a bunch of people at a distance and watching the road show, and asked him to vote for Congress.

"Mariswamy, will you vote for me," the CM asked. To this, Mariswamy replied, "I will not support you. I am in the JD(S)."

"Don't forget you were with me earlier," the CM said. Siddharamaiah tried to convince Mariswamy and said, "JD(S) and BJP are two sides of the same coin. Be with JD(S), but vote for me." However, Mariswamy was adamant. He said, "Whatever the JD(S) might be. I will neither vote for you nor will I come with you."

The CM even asked Mariswamy if he remembered he used to visit the latter's house. When Siddharamaiah told Mariswamy, "Okay go, don't come with me," Mariswamy replied, "It is my village and you are in my place. You have to leave the place and not me. It is you who have left JD(S). Not me."

Mariswamy continued, saying, "A big salute to the one who made you the Deputy Chief Minister in the past," indirectly referring to JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda. To this, Siddharamaiah replied, "That was then. Now, I am the Chief Minister."

The CM indicated that working for the JD(S) was akin to helping the BJP which, he said, had leaders like Union Minister Anant Kumar Hegde, who were openly advocating changing the Constitution and destroying statues of B.R. Ambedkar. But Mariswamy refused to buy the CM's argument, saying he will work and vote for JD(S) candidate G.T. Devegowda.

As Mariswamy turned to go, JD(S) workers shouted slogans in favour of the party and its candidate against Siddharamaiah in Chamundeshwari, G.T. Devegowda.

The workers also asked the Chief Minister to leave the place.

VOICE OF THE READER

Elections and voting for the 'right' candidate

Sir,

Apropos the letter 'Do Vote, but Vote intelligently' by Bhamy V. Shenoy (SOM dated Apr.22), KBG is right that we all vote on party lines including the most educated and well-informed.

In an environment where money and muscle power matters most and politics has become the most lucrative vocation, the biggest challenge at present for the voters is, prevailing over the political parties to filter the 'wrong' candidates. A mechanism has to be found in the future by the voters to see that the parties field only 'clean', educated and preferably professionals as KBG rightly suggests. Half the battle would be won if we can achieve this.

Right now, it's a catch-22 situation for the voters as there aren't many 'right' candidates contesting and there is no opportunity for us to use our grey matter to choose between the devil and the deep blue sea!

Voters were looking for a new/ alternate narrative and that's how Aam Aadmi Party emerged and won 67 out of 70 seats in Delhi. It would have gone places by now but sadly lost the steam after Yogendra Yadav, Prashanth Bhushan and others exited the party.

For the present, it would be a good idea if the prospective winners of this election at least make it a point to hold bi-annual town hall meetings in their Constituencies to listen to and address the problems of the voters. The voters should demand this and make them accountable.

Chamaraja Constituency: Public debate on May 2

e-mail your queries to: mygrapa@gmail.com

Mysuru, Apr.26 - Today most voters cast their ballot based either on party platform or such divisive factors of caste, religion and community. All voters — literate or illiterate, poor or rich, young or old — want to bring about changes in the way voting takes place in India.

In a functioning democracy, voters should vote based on the ability and honesty of candidates and not simply be swayed by their party platforms. Only then the political parties will be forced to select the most deserving candidates.

Keeping this in mind, Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) and Mysore District Journalists Association (MDJA) have organised a first-of-its-kind debate to learn about the views and backgrounds of the main political party candidates in view of the ensuing Assembly polls on May 12.

The debate will take place on May 2 (Wednesday) at Mysore West Lions Sevaniketan School (6th Cross, Gokulam III Stage) between 6 pm and 7.30 pm. In order to meet the Model Code of Conduct, only those with passes will be allowed to attend.

Four main political party candidates — MLA Vasu of Congress, Prof. K.S. Rangappa of JD (S), L. Nagendra of BJP and Malavika Gubbivani of AAP — will participate in the debate.

Prof. Niranjan Vanalli of Journalism Department, Mysore University and Preeti Nagaraj, journalist, will be anchoring the event. Only anchors will be asking the questions to maintain the decorum during the debate and also to comply with the Code of Conduct. Candidates will be asked similar questions and given the same time to respond.

Debates of this kind where candidates are asked to give information about their backgrounds, vision for their Constituency, past and future contribution to their Constituencies will go a long way in educating the public to vote intelligently.

Public are invited to send their questions through e-mail to: mygrapa@gmail.com. For more information call MGP on Mob: 94498-33792.

Chinese love stories

Once upon a time there was a weaver girl who loved a cowherd. But she was no ordinary weaver girl; she was the daughter of the Goddess of Heaven and she wove clouds for the sky. She came down to earth for fun, met the cowherd, married him and had two children. They lived happily until her mother dragged her back to the sky. An ox told the heartbroken cowherd to kill him and use his magical hide to rise to the sky.

The cowherd did this and rose to the sky with his two children. Annoyed, the Goddess of Heaven used a pin to scratch the sky creating the silver river or Milky Way that separated the two lovers who eventually turned into stars.

But once a year, out of pity for the separated lovers, magpie birds create a bridge across the silver river and enable the husband to meet his wife and their children to spend time with the mother. This marks the annual Chinese Qixi festival celebrated on the seventh day of the seventh month of the Chinese lunar calendar, roughly in August each year.

This is one of the four major Chinese folk tales, all composed over 2,000 years ago and retold and re-framed several times. All of them revolve around the theme of love.

In The Legend of the White Snake, we learn of the rivalry between a white snake and a turtle. The white snake turns into a woman and marries a man, and their son eventually joins the imperial bureaucracy. The turtle turns into a man, disguises himself as a Buddhist monk, and tries to break them apart using Taoist magic. The white snake fights back, and protects her husband, with the help of her sister, the green snake.

The idea of animals turning into humans and magic powers obtained through training and penance is part of Taoist beliefs, while love and piety displayed by wives for husbands, children for parents and friends for each other are all part of Confucian philosophy. The Buddhist monk jealous of a happy conjugal relationship reveals the Chinese's initial hostility to the monastic order.

Then there is the story of the youngest daughter of a rich family called Zhu who disguises herself as a boy in order to gain access to a learning academy where she falls in love with a poor boy, a fellow student called Liang, who also becomes fond of 'him'. Feelings develop that he cannot explain until she reveals her true identity. But the lovers are separated when the girl's father fixes her marriage with an aristocrat. Heartbreak kills Liang and strong winds prevent Zhu's bridal procession from proceeding beyond his grave. The grave opens and Zhu jumps in to join her beloved. Their spirits emerge as a pair of inseparable butterflies.

Finally, there is the tale of a lady who travels to the Great Wall of China carrying winter clothes for her husband who has been forced into imperial service there. On reaching she learns he is dead and searches for his corpse. Her tears cause a portion of the wall to collapse revealing the bones of her beloved husband.

Chinese culture may seem alien to us, but the emotion of love enables us to connect with these stories, and through it with the hearts and minds of the Chinese people.

HAPPINESS Depends on YOU

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC

He does not make me happy but I am happy. The fact that I am happy or not does not depend on him, God has granted each of us intellect and discretion to reason, interpret and decide. God made me the person upon which my happiness depends. I make the choice to be happy in each situation and each moment of my life. True happiness lies in being content...

TWO INTERESTING AND CONTRASTING STORIES: After years of hard and dedicated service to his company, Rahul was being appointed at an elegant reception as the new Director. It was a small function where his wife Anita, a home-maker and some of the wives of the other persons in top management, were also present

Ballal

In an adjacent room, Ann, the wife of the CEO of the company, asked Rahul's wife a very off and unusual question: "Does you husband make you happy?"

The husband, Rahul, who at that moment not at her side, but was sufficiently near to hear the question, paid attention to the conversation, sitting up, slightly feeling insecure, even filling his chest lightly in pride and hope, that his wife would not publicly lower or degrade her husband. He was sure that she would answer affirmatively as he considered himself to be a good husband.

Nevertheless, to his and others' surprise, she simply replied, "No, no, he does not make me happy."

The room became uncomfortably silent as if everyone were listening to the spouses' response. There was a sudden coldness in the air. The husband was petrified, a frown appeared on his face. He could not believe what his wife was saying, especially at such an important occasion for him.

To the amazement of her husband and everyone else listening, Anita started explaining, No, no, he does not make me happy. But I am happy. The fact that I am happy or not does not depend on him, God has granted each of us intellect and discretion to reason, interpret and decide. God made me the person upon which my happiness depends. I make the choice to be happy in each situation and each moment of my life.

If my happiness were to depend on other people, on other things or circumstances on the face of this earth, I would be in serious trouble. In my life, I have learned a couple of things. I decide to be happy and the rest is a matter of experience. Circumstances like helping, understanding, accepting, listening, consoling and with my spouse I have lived and practiced this many times.

Honestly, true happiness lies in being content. There are those who say that I cannot be happy

Because I am sick
Because I have no money
Because it is too cold
Because someone stopped loving me
Because someone did not appreciate me

But they did not know that one can still be happy with all the problems mentioned above if only they realise that happiness is an attitude about life each of us decide. Being happy depends on us. It depends on me. I fall, I rise, I make mistakes, I live, I learn, I have been hurt but I am alive, I am human. I am not perfect but I am thankful.

When I take this obligation from my husband and anyone else, I free them from the guilt of carrying me on their shoulders. It makes everyone's life much lighter. And that's how I have had a successful marriage for so many years!

A relieved Rahul was now giving a broad smile.

THE SECOND STORY

A famous writer was in his study. He picked up his pen and started writing: Last year I had a surgery and my gall bladder was removed. I had to stay in bed due to this surgery for a long time.

The same year I reached the age of 60 years and had to give up my job. The same year I experienced the sorrow of the death of my father.

My son failed in his medical exam because of a car accident. The destruction of his car was another loss. It was such a bad year!

His wife came into the room, saw what was written on his paper and saw the lost look on her husband's face. She left the room silently, came back with another paper and placed it on the side of her husband's writing.

When the writer saw that paper with his name, he was curious and started to read: Last year I finally got rid of my gall bladder due to which I had spent several years in pain. I turned 60 with sound health and got retired. Now I can utilise my time to write something better with some focus and peace.

The same year, my father, at the age of 95, without depending on anyone met his creator. My son's car was destroyed, but God blessed us by keeping my son alive without any disability. This year was an immense blessing of God and it passed well.

Two beautiful interpretations of a same situation. The writer understood what his wife was hinting at and brightened up.

Two simple and beautiful stories. What is the moral of these stories? If you look at life positively, one can get happiness from all situations. Life is not fair. But one has to move forward taking the positives only. Be positive, life is good. Happiness depends on YOU. Do you agree ?

BJP National Spokesperson Meenakshi Lekhi in city

'Siddharamaiah Government most corrupt in the country'

First visit to Mysuru

BJP National Spokesperson and Supreme Court lawyer Meenakshi Lekhi told 'SOM' that this was her first visit to Mysuru. "I had heard so much about Mysuru. I knew that it is the cleanest city and have also heard about the famous Dasara. However, destiny had not willed me to come here earlier," she said and added, "Mysuru means so much to me now, I am even contemplating to buy a property here and live a retired life later."

Mysuru, Apr.26 (PM&NNN)- Chief Minister Siddharamaiah-led Congress Government is the most corrupt one in the country, alleged BJP National Spokesperson Meenakshi Lekhi.

Addressing a press conference at Patrakarthara Bhavan here yesterday, she said that in the entire country one cannot see a corrupt government run, as the one by Siddharamaiah. There is corruption involved in all the projects and this government is 'Seeda Rupaiah Sarkar,' she charged.

DIVISIVE POLITICS: The Congress is following a policy of divide and rule and Chief Minister Siddharamaiah is trying to divide religion, caste and sub-caste in the State to gain political mileage, she said.

Reacting to the charge that the BJP is ignoring the Dalits and Minorities, she said that it was the BJP Government at the Centre which has appointed a Dalit, Ram Nath Kovind as the President of India and the earlier President Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam was also made the President during their rule. There are 131 MPs who are Dalits and Minorities and BJP works for the development of all communities, she said.

The State Government has failed to nab the killers of Scholar Dr. M.M. Kalburgi and Journalist Gauri Lankesh but the Congress is trying to create doubts among the people that BJP is involved in these killings and added to this it has not taken any action against the murderers of BJP and RSS workers, she alleged.

The law and order has completely collapsed and an atmosphere of fear has been created in the State. There are several allegations against the Ministers in the current Government and including Siddharamaiah, his friends and close associates are involved in several scandals, she charged.

Lekhi expressed confidence that the BJP will get a clear majority and will form the Government in the State.

Asked about B.Y. Vijayendra, she said that his services to the party are very essential and he has been appointed State Yuva Morcha General Secretary.

Later, speaking exclusively to Star of Mysore at a private hotel in the city, she said, in reply to a question, that State BJP President B.S. Yeddyurappa has always worked in the interest of the party from the beginning and there is not an iota of doubt that he is going to be the next Chief Minister of Karnataka.

On Vijayendra being denied ticket, she said that above all we are BJP workers first and everyone has to follow the rules of the party and listen to what the party leaders say. Whoever the party gives ticket to, one has to work in the interest of the candidate to see that he or she wins and this is the BJP's core ideology.

TO OUR READERS: Watch out for an interview with firebrand BJP National Spokesperson Meenakshi Lekhi, who is also a Supreme Court lawyer, in 'Star of Mysore' soon.—Ed

All for Power

BJP-Congress alliance in Mizoram!

Guwahati, Apr. 26 - Elected members of the BJP and Congress have joined hands to run Mizoram's Chakma Tribal Council, a surprise move engineered by local Congress leaders to keep the opposition Mizo National Front (MNF) out of power.

No party had a majority in this month's elections to the Chakma Autonomous District Council that was set up in 1972 to let the Buddhist tribal community govern themselves. The ruling Congress had ended up with just six seats in the 20-member Council and the BJP had five. The MNF, a constituent of BJP-led North East Democratic Alliance, was the largest party in the Council, with eight seats.

Amit Shah, the BJP President had done the math in Delhi and it seemed obvious that the BJP and the MNF would come to power. He went ahead to tweet his congratulatory message. "BJP-MNF, between them has won 13 out of the 20 seats.... It also marks beginning of BJP's rise in Mizoram," Shah had tweeted.

Local Congress leaders, however, were able to persuade the BJP's elected leaders to make a different choice. As part of this deal, it has given the BJP leaders the Council's Chairman's post and settled for the deputy's post.

The BJP, however, clearly isn't happy with how its elected members have disregarded instructions. "We are shocked," a BJP leader in Aizawl said, complaining that the Congress appeared to have succeeded in getting their representatives to switch sides.

Corridors of Time: Story of a sensitive young man

From carefree childhood to eventful manhood...

Title: Corridors of Time
Author: Vinay Krishnan
Publisher: GJ Group
Edition: First edition (2018)
Pages: 270
Price: Rs. 250

The book Corridors of Time by Vinay Krishnan tracks the story of a sensitive young man who grows from carefree childhood to eventful manhood — one who stumbles before learning to stride through those dark and dense passages.

This non-fiction is set in Bengaluru, a city of paradoxes; of gardens and garbage heaps; of technology and traffic snarls; of friendly people and failing infrastructure; when bungalows had gardens and pavements were meant for pedestrians. This is a narrative of the human spirit.

Rohan, an idealistic young sports-lover, experiences rejection, dark dejection and isolation and hurtles down the path to self-destruction. Shyla, attractive and successful is everything his heart yearns for and his body desires, except, she is married!

Chandrika, simple and devoted fails to understand the man she loves. The Shuklas long for justice denied by the system. And Khalid fears nothing and no one... anymore.

About the Author: Vinay Krishnan describes himself as a 'complete Bengalurean'. A student of Clarence High School, he graduated in Humanities from St. Joseph's College. Earning a diploma in Business Administration, he began his career at Usha International Ltd., and rose to a position of Senior Sales Manager. Vinay has now set up a construction firm of his own.

He also writes and devotes his time to an NGO assisting people with disability. The city of his dreams, Bengaluru, where he stays with his wife and daughter, continues to inspire and exasperate him.

"The book is simple in style and content, for often it is this simplicity that bewilders and rouses interest."

—S .Rajendra Babu, former Chief Justice of India.

NAMO APP

"We want to win elections on the issue of development, based on the strength of the organisation and winning the confidence of janata. We don't want to win elections by misleading the public," the PM said.

Giving primary importance to the politics of development, the Prime Minister said, other political parties hesitate to talk on development because it can be quantified. "This was unacceptable to those parties which only concentrated on division. We govern and fight elections based only on development model," Modi said pointing out to the main opposition Congress.

"The Indian politics culture is associated with the misdeeds of mainstream Congress and its sins. The country's politics can only be cleaned if it is free from Congress culture," he said. People, who have their entire politics based on caste and community, were not bothered about development of the country, he said.

BJP worker commits suicide

The incident occurred at Saragur village in Varuna and the man who took the extreme step is Gaviyappa.

It may be recalled here that in a sudden political development on Apr. 23, Vijayendra was denied Varuna ticket at a time when party workers were fully backing him to take on Chief Minister Siddharamaiah's son Dr. Yathindra in Varuna.

This move had angered the party workers and they went on a rampage at Nanjangud and Mysuru. Finally, the High Command's decision prevailed and Thotadappa Basavaraju was declared the official candidate and granted the 'B Form.'

According to Saragur villagers, Gaviyappa, who was campaigning extensively in Varuna for Vijayendra, was shocked by this development and had spoken to some of the villagers that grave injustice was meted out to Vijayendra.

Unable to bear the trauma, Gaviyappa committed suicide by hanging himself.

Party workers said that Gaviyappa was in the BJP for over 30 years and was a staunch follower of Sadananda, the Zilla Panchayat (ZP) Member from Tagadur.

On Monday, when Yeddyurappa made the announcement in Nanjangud that his son Vijayendra was not contesting from Varuna, Gaviyappa was the first among the party workers to raise voice against the party High Command at Hullahalli Circle.

At one point, he even climbed the stage from where Yeddyurappa spoke and told the latter that the BJP will definitely lose the elections this time and the party will be routed in Mysuru region.

He was later brought down the stage and villagers said that Gaviyappa was upset that all the efforts to secure the Varuna ticket to Vijayendra had failed.

Three of family from Kerala meet watery grave at Kabini backwaters

Mysuru, Apr.26 (MTY&NNN)- Three members of a family from Kerala met a watery grave yesterday when they had gone for a picnic to the backwaters of Kabini, near the Karnataka-Kerala border. The incident occurred in Goluru of H.D. Kote taluk in Mysuru District.

The unfortunate victims are Chalakal Baby (53), daughter Anitha (18) and son Ajit (24). Anitha was bathing in the backwaters when she slipped and fell and was drowning. Her father, Baby, seeing her drowning went to her rescue and he also slipped and cried for help. Seeing that both his sister and father were drowning, Ajit went to their rescue and also was not able to save them and instead he also drowned.

The other picnickers, who heard their cries for help, were shocked at this sudden turn of events and most of them returned from the place.

As the picnic spot is in Karnataka-Kerala border, the case was registered in Kerala's Pulpalli Police Station.

The bodies were recovered this morning and after post mortem in a nearby Government hospital, the bodies were handed over to the relatives.

The villagers in the area demanded that a warning board be put up at the backwaters picnic spot about the dangers of bathing in the water.

3,374 are in fray for 224-seat Assembly

Bengaluru, Apr. 26 - As many as 3,374 nominations, including 259 from women, have been received for the May 12 Karnataka Assembly polls. In all, 4,888 sets of nominations have been received from candidates.

To allay any fears over the performance of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs), the Election Commission of India will be introducing new generation M-3 EVMs in seven Assembly segments in State and it will be expanded across the country.

''We want to assure voters that EVMs is a safe mechanism for Indian elections and there is no need for any apprehension. The EC is upgrading its mechanism of conducting elections and now we have this M3 machines which will be deployed across India during the 2019 general elections, Karnataka Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar told reporters yesterday.

PKTB Hospital staff demand regular payment of salaries, PF & ESI facilities

Mysuru, Apr.26 (PM&NNN)- Nearly 90 Pourakarmikas and security guards of PKTB Hospital on KRS Road staged a flash strike in front of the hospital for nearly three hours this morning, demanding regular payment of salaries, PF and ESI.

The protest was organised by Karnataka State District Hospital Contract Pourakarmikas and Employees Association and Dalit Sangharsh Samiti (Ambedkar faction).

The Pourakarmikas and the security guards alleged that the contractors were harassing and exploiting them as they did not pay the salaries on time and were denying them PF and ESI contributions. Besides, even during emergencies in their families they were denied holidays, they claimed.

The contractors collected money of Rs.1,500 for the uniform by deducting Rs.500 for three months when it was supposed to be given freely and they demanded the money back. They also wanted salary slips to be given to them every month.

The Pourakarmikas said that the kind of work they did of cleaning toilets and hospital was full of risk as they were prone to work under conditions where they would catch infections frequently. Hence, they said that they wanted gloves and mask to be given to them.

PKTB Hospital Medical Superintendent Dr. Virupaksha who came to the spot assured the protesters that all their demands would be looked into at the earliest and the problems solved in ten days. Regarding the hike in salary of Rs.14,000 per month and whether PF and ESI contribution was being made, he said that the Government had to take a decision on the hike in salary, while the register would be checked for PF and ESI contribution.

Association President R.R. Ramesh, Vice-President Nagaveni, General Secretary G. Murugan and K. Nanjappa of the Samiti and others led the protest.

Weekend music concerts at Nadabrahma Sabha

Madhu Kashyap

Mohan

Rajesh

Mysuru, Apr.26-Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha has organised three concerts during the weekend at its premises on JLB Road.

On Saturday, 28th April, two very unique concerts will be presented — Nadaswara by Rajesh and Party at 6 pm and Clarinet by R. Mohan at 7.30 pm. Both instruments are rare nowadays on a concert platform.

Rajesh, a young Nadaswara Vidwan from Srirangapatna, is the son of Nadaswara Vidwan late P. Nagaraju. He had his initial training in Nadaswara under H.S. Swamy of Holenarasipura and subsequently intense training under Vid. K.N. Krishnamurthy. He has keenness to learn and adapt to the requirements of the audience. He has clean blow and control on the Vadya and immediately catches the attention of the listener. Today when Nadaswara is getting limited to marriages and temple Utsavas, Rajesh is a silverline for the concerts among available few. He has been performing at important platforms in Karnataka regularly.

R. Mohan hails from a musical family. His father and Guru D.Ramu, a well-known clarionet player, nurtured his interest in Music. He also learnt under M.V. Lakshminarasimhaiah, Srinivas and M. Nagaraju, popular Nadaswara Vidwan. He honed his music under great gurus like Prof. R.N. Doreswamy and H.K.Narasimha Murthy. An A grade artiste of Akashavani, he has performed in reputed Sabhas in and outside India. He has won a lot of appreciation for his good tonal quality playing and is employed by the Mysore Police Band. Mohan will be accompanied by Vid. C. N. Thyagarajan on violin, A. Radhesh on mridanga and V.S.Ramesh on ghata.

On Sunday, 29th April at 5.30 pm, Nada Kishora Madhu Kashyap will sing for M.H. Raja Rao Memorial concert, sponsored by Family and Friends of Raja Rao.

Hailing from a musical background, the quest for music for Madhu began with mridanga at an early age under the tutelage of his father Vidwan N.G.Ravi, a renowned mridanga artiste. Madhu's interest in music diversified towards Karnatak classical vocal and has been trained under the tutelage of his mother Dr. Meenakshi Ravi, a veteran teacher and performer, and Sangeetha Kalaratna Vidushi Neela Ramgopal, a renowned name in the field.

Driven by his passion for pursuing music, Madhu recently bid adieu to his professional career as an IT professional. Madhu is now on his own and a full-time musician. He has been a performing artiste for over a decade and has performed in well-known sabhas all over the country. Madhu's uniqueness lies in the creative rendition of ragas, swara and absolute devotion. He is also a successful Jugalbandi artiste. He has been the recipient of several awards like Nada Kishora by Nadabrahma Sabha, Ananya Nadajyothi Pratibha Puraskara by Malleswaram Sangeetha Sabha, Bengaluru, The Best Concert Artiste Award by Bangalore Gayana Samaja.

Madhu has a couple of albums released, to his credit. In this concert, Madhu will be accompanied by Vittal Rangan on violin, R. Adamya on mridanga and R. Karthik on khanjira.

Geethantharanga at Ganabharathi tomorrow

Vidu. Geetha Seetharam

Vidu. Mitra Naveen

Mysuru, Apr.26-Ganabharathi has organised a special programme "Geethantharanga" on April 27. At 6 pm, Vidu. Geetha Seetharam will give a vocal concert featuring krithis composed by herself. She will be accompanied by Vid. C. N. Thyagarajan on violin and Vid. P. S. Sridhar on mridanga. This will be followed by a Bharathanatya recital by Vidu. Mitra Naveen and troupe at 7.30 pm based on the compositions of Geetha Seetharam.

Vidu. Geetha Seetharam is a popular artiste and a composer from Mysuru. Through her school Geethanjali she has been imparting music to disciples and has also performed numerous concerts abroad. A post-graduate in both Bharathanatya and English Literature, Vidu. Mitra Naveen is a disciple of Vidu. Krishnaveni, Vid. Muralidhara Rao and Vidu. Kripa Phadke. Being a graded artiste of Doordarshan, she is also imparting Bharathanatya to hundreds of students through Nadavidyalaya Institute of Music and Dance. Virat Kohli fined for RCB's slow over-rate against CSK

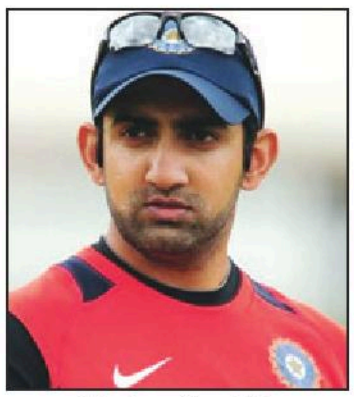
Bengaluru, Apr.26- Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) captain Virat Kohli has been fined Rs.12 lakh for maintaining slow over-rate during their Indian Premier League (IPL) against Chennai Super Kings (CSK) here last night.

The hosts had put on board a challenging 205 for eight but riding on M.S. Dhoni's power-packed 34-ball 70, Super Kings overhauled the formidable target with two balls to spare.

"As it was his team's first offence of the season under the IPL's Code of Conduct relating to minimum over-rate offences, Mr. Kohli was fined Rs 12 lakh," an IPL press release said.

Gautam Gambhir quits as Delhi Daredevils captain



Gautam Gambhir

New Delhi, Apr.26- After a string of defeats which has left Delhi Daredevils (DD) languishing at the bottom of the points table in the ongoing IPL, the captain of the team, former India opener Gautam Gambhir, stepped down from his post yesterday.

Shreyas Iyer will take charge from Friday's match against the Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR) at Ferozeshah Kotla.

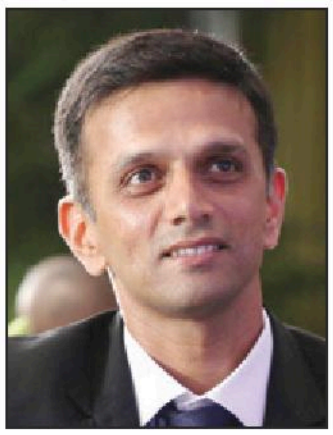
Gambhir's decision, which one thought was round the corner given his poor form this year, comes as a precedence of sorts and a signal for other struggling Indian veterans in the IPL.

It is learnt that Gambhir has offered to forego his entire fee he was due to receive as per the contract with the Daredevils. "Gambhir doesn't mind letting go of the Rs.2.80 crore as he feels he has not done the job he was bought in for. He will take a call on his future as a player once the IPL ends," sources said.

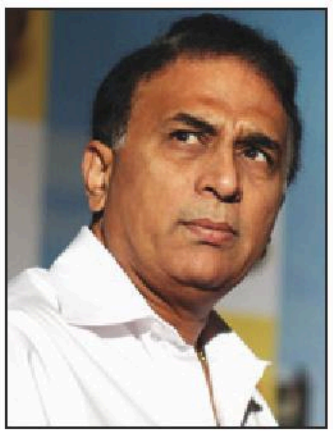
BCCI recommends India Captain Virat Kohli for Khel Ratna

Nominates Dravid for Dronacharya and Sunil Gavaskar for Dhyan Chand Awards

Virat Kohli



Rahul Dravid



Sunil Gavaskar

Mysuru, Apr.26- The Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) yesterday recommended India captain Virat Kohli's name for the Rajiv Gandhi Khel Ratna honour.

Along with him, the Indian Cricket Board also recommended former India captain Rahul Dravid for the prestigious Dronacharya award and Sunil Gavaskar for the Dhyan Chand Lifetime Achievement award. CoA chief Vinod Rai confirmed Dravid's nomination for the Dronacharya award. "Yes, we have sent a number of nominations in various categories to the government. Rahul is the BCCI nominee for the Dronacharya award," Rai told PTI.

Dravid has been nominated for successfully guiding the India U-19 team to 2018 ICC Cricket World Cup title earlier this year. Under his guidance, the U-19 batch of 2016 played the final of the ICC World Cup. Dravid has also worked with India A team and is the bridge between international and junior cricket. BCCI had stopped sending nominations for Dronacharya awards due to multiple coaches at times claiming credit for a player's success.

"It happened when a former India opener had signed two nominations where coaches claimed that the player worked under them. From then, we had stopped sending nominations," a senior BCCI official said.

"However when Rajkumar Sharma (Kohli coach) got Dronacharya award, it was a personal nomination. He was not BCCI nominee. For someone of Rahul's stature, we have decided to depart from convention," the official added.

As per Kohli's nomination for Khel Ratna, it has been learned that BCCI has nominated the Indian captain him for the second time.

Kohli's name was sent in 2016 but being the Olympic year, the three stars of Rio, PV Sindhu, Sakshi Malik and Deepa Karmakar were conferred with the award.

As far as Gavaskar is concerned, his contribution in Indian cricket as a player and then as a critique has been unquestionable. Normally, the convention for Dhyan Chand award is to confer those who have not got Arjuna award during their playing days. However, Gavaskar is an Arjuna awardee.

Dhoni stars in Chennai Super Kings win over Royal Challengers

Bengaluru, Apr.26- Mahendra Singh Dhoni, the former India captain once again showed that age is just a number for him. Dhoni blazed his way to a 34-ball 70 to power Chennai Super Kings (CSK) to a thrilling five-wicket win over Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) in the Indian Premier League (IPL) yesterday.

Chasing a massive total of 206 runs, Dhoni was at his explosive best, blasting seven sixes as the visitors won with five wickets and two deliveries to spare clash at M. Chinnaswamy Stadium.

CSK needed 16 runs in the last over and Dhoni hit a six to see his team through.

Dhoni remained not out on 70 runs and was well supported by Ambati Rayudu, who slammed four boundaries and eight sixes in his 53-ball 83 runs knock.

Batting first, RCB notched up a competitive 205 for eight riding on Ad de Villiers 30-ball 68 and Quinton de Kock's 53, but CSK chased down the target with two balls to spare.

CSK were off to a bad start with Pawan Negi sending back Shane Watson with just eight runs on the board. Sam Billings came and went back to the dugout for the addition of just nine runs to the team total, while Ravindra Jadeja was bowled by Yuzvendra Chahal to leave CSK in a spot of bother at 74 for four.

However, Rayudu and skipper Dhoni had other ideas as the duo staged a fine recovery before bringing CSK right back into the game.

A flurry of sixes flowed from the blades of Rayudu and Dhoni as they constructed their innings keeping the required run rate in mind.

M.S. Dhoni was adjudged as the 'Player of the Match.'

Keep both Congress & BJP at bay, Mayawati tells voters

State JD(S) Chief H.D. Kumaraswamy says secret pact between Siddharamaiah and Yeddyurappa cost Vijayendra Varuna ticket

Mysuru, Apr.26 (SBD&BCT)- Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) President Mayawati yesterday gave a clarion call to voters to keep both the Congress and BJP at bay and vote for the JD(S)-BSP combine to create an inclusive society.

Mayawati was in Mysuru yesterday to launch the campaign of the JD(S)-BSP combine ahead of the polls and she addressed a rally at Maharaja's College Grounds. "I urge you to reject the Congress and the BJP which have neglected the poor, the Dalits and the backward classes.

The Congress, which had a stronghold over the Governments in the country for several decades, did not allow the downtrodden to prosper, for its political gains," she charged.

"In view of promoting the welfare of the Dalits and backward classes, the BSP has formed a coalition with the JD(S) in Karnataka. When the BSP was in power in Uttar Pradesh, it strived for the development of all communities. If the JD(S)-BSP combine is voted to power, Kumaraswamy will give a pro-people administration," she said.

She exuded confidence that the JD(S) and BSP combine is a winnable combination and Kumaraswamy will be the next Chief Minister of Karnataka. "The BJP and team were against the implementation of the Mandal Commission Report. The Congress praised Dalits but it didn't implement the Commission Report. The Congress also failed to recognise the services of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar by giving him Bharat Ratna. It was the V.P. Singh Government that fulfilled both the wishes of BSP," she stated.

Mayawati cautioned the people not to pay attention to the opinion polls that had predicted third place to the JD(S) in the seat tally, and instead support the JD(S) and BSP candidates in the elections. She said that the JD(S) and the BSP entered into an alliance to safeguard the interests of Dalits, Adivasis, religious minorities, farmers, small traders, and the poor, and work for their well-being.

"JD(S) and BSP combine will pave the way for an alternative force at the Centre in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections for which the Karnataka Assembly polls is a precursor," she added.

Both Kumaraswamy and Mayawati referred to the statement of Congress leader Salman Khurshid that the party had "blood on its hands" to state that it was indictment enough that the Congress had failed to protect the minorities.

FIGHT BETWEEN MONEY AND PEOPLE

JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda said that this election is a fight between money and people. "We don't have money. We have to show them people power. We have received support from BSP, AIMIM and Telangana Chief Minister K. Chandrashekar Rao to form a BJP and Congress-free Government in Karnataka," he said.

In his address, Kumaraswamy lashed out at Chief Minister Siddharamaiah for questioning his contribution to the development of Karnataka. He said that he had done more during his stint as a Chief Minister in 20 months than what Siddharamaiah had done in five years. Kumaraswamy said that during his tenure, he had waived off Rs.2,500 crore of farmers' loans.

"The Congress derives a wicked pleasure in describing the JD(S) as the 'B' team of the BJP. Why did the BJP withdraw the candidature of B.Y. Vijayendra, son of former Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa, from Varuna, where Siddharamaiah's son Dr.Yathindra is contesting? There is a possibility of a secret pact between Siddharamaiah and Yeddyurappa. We have coalition with the BSP and we do not have any understanding with any other party. We have the confidence to take both the Congress and the BJP head-on," he said.

LUKEWARM RESPONSE TO RALLY

The first joint convention of workers from JD(S) and BSP in the run up to the Assembly polls received lukewarm response as party workers and supporters did not turn up in large numbers. The meeting was delayed by nearly three hours, leading to disappointment among activists. The meeting was scheduled to start at 3.30 pm but commenced only around 6 pm.

But leaders attributed the poor response to confusion during scrutiny of nomination papers.

JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda and State unit Chief H.D. Kumaraswamy both admitted that the response was not up to their expectations.

Kumaraswamy, however, announced that he would organise a bigger meeting at the same venue before elections.

"The candidates were perhaps busy with filing nominations and scrutiny and hence did not pay attention to organising this rally," Kumaraswamy said.

He referred to the large turnout in the rally held in February in Bengaluru and said, "That was a historic rally and we wanted a similar turnout at Mysuru but we have failed to organise it in a bigger way."

WORD OF THE DAY

Loath

Pronunciation: LOHTH (adjective)

Meaning: Unwilling to do something contrary to one's ways of thinking: reluctant

Origin: Many usage commentators point out that the spelling of loath, the adjective, is distinct from loathe, the verb that means "to dislike greatly." Merriam-Webster dictionaries do record loathe (along with loth) as a variant spelling for the adjective, but at the same time indicate that the loath spelling is the most common one. The adjective and the verb both hark back to Old English, and the "e" ending in each has come and gone over the centuries—but if you want to avoid the ire of those who like to keep the language tidy, stick with loath for the adjective and loathe for the verb.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A nest of vipers

Meaning: A group of iniquitous people, congregating together.

Origin: A nest of vipers is a figurative term but it isn't very far removed from the literal meaning. Calling someone a 'snake' has long been an insult in English. This derives from the ingratitude or treachery displayed by the snake in Aesop's fable The farmer and the Snake, in which the snake was rescued from freezing to death by a farmer, only to mortally bite him when it recovered. The secretive habits of snakes also gave rise to a reputation for lurking danger and to suspiciousness. Vipers - also called adders - were especially singled out as despicable because they were, unlike other English snakes, poisonous. To call someone a viper was to insult them considerably. This form of insult dates back at least to the 16th century. William Tyndale used 'vipers' as a figurative insult in his 1526 Bible, in Matthew 3,: He sayde vnto them: O generacion of vipers, who hath taught you to fle from the vengeaunce to come?

Nest of vipers Not long afterwards Robert Greene used the term even more forcibly in The Art of Conny Catching, 1591: These villanous vipers, vnworthy the name of men, base roagues,... being outcasts from God, vipers of the world, and an excremental reuersion of sin.

Groups of people, usually those of villainous intent, were called 'nests' from around the same period. The first documented occurrence of the two terms combined to form 'a nest of vipers' was in 1644, when a pamphlet that criticised a group of plotters who were planning treason against the English Parliament was titled A Nest of Perfidious Vipers.
